

The Expansion Project Plot Outline

Introduction: A greedy businessman wants to expand his factory for profit but must first acquire the land of a Scared Farmer and a Nosey Fisherman. It is up to these two to stop the Businessman from taking all they have.

Rising Action: The Fisherman and Farmer sneak into the Factory to get inside information and they find out that all of the workers are being mind controlled. They manage to get one of the workers out and they ask him questions. He is confused and oblivious to everything and doesn't recall anything. The worker is still mind controlled. The Fisherman tries splashing water on him out of spite but it ends up working and gets the Worker out of the trance. The Fisherman and Farmer reveal what's been happening to the Worker and he instantly turns on the Factory and the Businessman. The worker decides to join the two and uses his inside knowledge of the Factory to help the Fisherman and Farmer to stop the Businessman.

Climax: The Fisherman, Farmer, and Worker create a plan to invade the factory. They each use their own pros and abilities to break into the factory. The worker uses the fact that he's an actual employee there in order to get in. He uses a back door to get into the factory and leads the Fisherman in. The scared Farmer was told to go back behind the factory where there is a water tower. He has an axe and timidly stands next to the water tower. The Fisherman and Worker inside are getting impatient because the Businessman has realized that the Worker has been missing and in inspecting the place and has almost caught the Fisherman and Worker. They are anxiously waiting on the Farmer to do his job but they are somewhat hopeless because they know how timid he is. The Farmer out behind the Factory sees a yellow flower and gets flashbacks to when he was a kid and how he was abused by his dad after his mom had died. The flashback starts by showing the same flower in a vase in the young farmer's parents house. The Farmer has been scared all his life because of his childhood, but under the pressure of saving his land and his friends he finally breaks through and has a character arc where he becomes brave and starts hacking at the base of the water tower. The Farmer becomes proud of himself and uses his gained strength to cut down the legs of the water tower. The water tower starts to fall and lands on the roof of The Factory. All of the water starts to flow in through the smoke stack. The entire factory inside starts to fill up with water. The Fisherman and Worker become awestruck and they look at each other in amazement. "He did it." The Fisherman says. The fisherman then uses his fishing rod to get the hat off of the business man and then the worker uses his heavy hammer to hit the business worker. All of the Factory Workers have been broken from their spell and are now conscious. They are all cheering. The pressure of the water breaks the front wall of the Factory and everyone gets rushed out.

Falling action: All of the Factory workers get up out of the water now in the field outside The Factory and cheer. They all hug each other and help each other get on their feet. The Fisherman and The Worker make their way out in front of the factory where The Farmer is. They congratulate the Farmer on getting over his troubles and becoming a new person. The Farmer no longer stutters when he talks and is more confident in himself. All of the workers go home and the Fisherman, Farmer, and The Worker go to the Farmer's place to eat dinner. The following day a construction team comes out to take down The Factory building. The mailman comes and delivers a newspaper. The Fisherman gets it and rushes over to the others in excitement. The paper's headline reads "Businessman killed in factory incident!" The Fisherman and Worker laugh but the Worker merely smiles and sighs out of relief.

Resolution: The Fisherman, Farmer, and Worker go out to sit by the river. The Farmer asks if they did the right thing since they killed a man. The Fisherman replies saying it wouldn't have been fun watching all of those people suffer. The Worker replies saying that they saved those workers since he knows their pain. The Farmer replies with "You guys are right" and they watch the sunset together. "You guys are right, at the end of the day greed shall not prevail for kindness and friendship will."

The End.
